

ATTORNEYS STRENGTHENING NONPROFITS

LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

As we finish our fourth year of engaging attorney volunteers to provide local nonprofits with free business legal services, we are thankful for our donors, volunteers, board members, and nonprofit partners that are continually working to lift the people in our community. Below we highlight our 2018 corporate supporters to date, in addition to an awesome attorney volunteer and an impactful client.

We wish you a peaceful holiday season!

Erin C. Childs, Executive Director

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Lindsay Nichols, Thompson Hine

We were proud to give PBPO's first Rising Star Award at our Volunteer Appreciation event to Thompson Hine associate, Lindsay Nichols. Employment questions are at the top of the list of most of PBPO's clients. Lindsay generously shares her employment law expertise with PBPO clients and has volunteered for over 10 projects in the past two years. Even though she is at the beginning of her legal career, Lindsay's positive impact is already causing a ripple effect felt across our community.

Why does Lindsay volunteer with PBPO?

"First, PBPO is a great organization; they make it so easy to volunteer! But the reason I am excited about my PBPO work is that the non-profit clients are doing big things in and around Cincinnati to make our community better, stronger, and more cohesive. It's exciting to be a part of that."

NONPROFIT HIGHLIGHT

Project Yoga

Project Yoga gives underserved communities a chance to experience the emotional and physical well-being that can result from the practices of yoga and mindfulness. They work with people aged 3-103, and partner with local schools and nonprofits to offer their yoga and mindfulness program. In the past 10 years, they have reached over 30,000 children and adults.

"PBPO is an INVALUABLE resource to nonprofits and leaders in our community. It's because of organizations like yours, and generous individuals like all of you (PBPO volunteers), that small and mighty nonprofits like ours can do what we do best. Serve and elevate our community!" – Gina Fennell, Executive Director, Project Yoga
